

JAMBEROO GATEBALL LINEMARKING SYSTEM

Linemarking is a time consuming necessity for gateball and at Jamberoo CC gateballers wanted to make it a simpler and quicker process. An old linemarker designed for using small pressure pack cans was found in our equipment shed. It was destined for the dump. A rescue mission was put into place by Manuel Gutierrez. Manuel likes to fiddle. And so he began, firstly modifying the machine and then adding an electric spray gun. The result MG #1

Now to make the lines straight and run parallel to the white croquet lines an acquisition of a conveyer belt was made (free via Gumtree)

Now the process goes like this:

Roll out the conveyer belt

Run marker along belt whilst spraying

Remove the belt and reveal perfectly straight lines with great coverage

Add the final touches

There you have it - a quicker and easier way to line mark a gateball court. Also a more cost effective way as we had to water down the paint for the spray gun. 2 courts with 2 coats took less than an hour to mark and only used 2.5l of paint diluted at 2:1. Resulting a very impressive looking court.
